Re: Check complaint of discharging antifreeze to the sanitary sewer

On Friday, May 2, 2003 (10:15 A.M.) I received an anonymous complaint about the discharging of antifreeze to the sanitary sewer at Goodyear – 2625 S. Glenstone. The person complaining sounded as if this was an ongoing thing for Goodyear. On Monday May 5, 2003 (2:10 P.M.) I checked on this complaint. I talked to Mr. Maurice Forner, Store Manager and Mr. Jeff Taylor, Service Manager. I explained why I was there. They both stated that they do not discharge antifreeze to the sanitary sewer. They said that they have been recycling for at least 8 years, if not longer. They have Products Plus (Nixa, MO) pick up their spent antifreeze. Products Plus leaves an empty barrel for the spent antifreeze and a full barrel of recycled antifreeze for Goodyear to use. They also stated that their employees are trained to not dump anything down the sanitary sewer. Safety Kleen picks up their used oil and pumps out their sump. They have a small circular floor drain at each garage lift. These floor drains go to one main sump. They clean the garage floor with a mop and bucket. Every now and then they use a ZEP cleaner on the floor, but mainly the mop and bucket. The Zep cleaner starts out as an orange color and turns green when mixed with water. I tried to emphasize that we have cleaning and maintenance crews working on the sanitary sewer line on a regular basis and that if they see anything such as antifreeze or oil the crew will always report it.
